Annual UNICO Dinner Dance Slated Saturday

One of the largest crowds ever is expected at the third annual dinner-dance sponsored by Agawam Chapter of UNICO National Saturday, Oct. 24, in the National Guard Armory on Maynard St.

According to Gino R. Rossi, general committee chairman, advanced ticket sales indicate a record number of the town's residents will be on hand for the gala affair, scheduled to start at 7:30.

The dinner will be preceded by a social hour starting at 6:30, Mr. Rossi added. Last year nearly 400 attended, he noted.

The menu for the event, which in its three years, has become one of the highlights of the Agawam social season, will consist of a traditional Italian antipasto and salad, macaroni, roast potatoes, rock cornish game hen, dessert and coffee. The meal will be followed by dancing to the music of Freddie DiMauro's Orchestra.

Agawam Chapter of UNICO National is part of a nation-wide organization of Italian-American businessmen who have adopted as their motto "Service Above Self." Its primary aim is community service.

To that end, all proceeds from the dinner-dance Saturday will be used to further the local chapter's efforts for the town, which include camperships for local children, participation in mental health campaigns and scholarships to outstanding students in local schools.

For the 11th year, the Agawam Lions Club is making up the Agawam Community Birthday Calendar, under the direction of its Board of Directors. On this calendar birthdays, anniversaries, and town club meeting dates are listed on the particular day, so that all townspeople are bonded together in a fine community enterprise.

In past years, the response has been very good, and it is hoped that it will continue. Lion members are now soliciting listings throughout Agawam this month, and the co-operation of all is needed if the community spirit is to be kept alive here. Friendship is badly needed in this world of ours today.

Returns make it possible for the Lions to continue their civic duties and accomplishments. Preparations are in the making right now for the annual Christmas party for the youngsters of the town, who in past years have numbered right around 250. For many this party is the high light of the season, and the joyous faces are indeed a source of great satisfaction to the Lions who transport them to and from the party.

The October meeting of the club was last evening at the Agawam Congregational parish hall, and the guest speaker was Dr. Arnold R. Perlman, a Springfield eye specialist. Considered an expert in his field—the human eye—Dr. Perlman is highly regarded throughout the state. Program chairman Raymond Harris is to be commended in securing this speaker and furthering Lionism's Sight Conservation program.

Vote On The Local License Question

Question Number 7 to appear on every ballot in the 351 cities and towns of the Commonwealth is too important to be overlooked by any voter. Due to its poor position this year near the very end of the ballot, there is concern that citizens may neglect to vote on this three-part referendum which calls for three answers. Through this referendum, citizens of each community are given the right to choose either a continuation of the issuance of licenses permitting the sale of alcoholic beverages under orderly governmental control, or a status which in effect is Prohibition at the local level.

Those who remember the dismal history and story of Prohibition realize that its revival also produces revenue crises, and creates unemployment among many workers whose livelihood is gained from the legal manufacture, distribution, sale and transportation of alcoholic beverages and associated products. It is obviously the duty of every citizen to register an opinion on this vital issue by taking the time necessary to locate, study, and vote on the Local License referendum.

Please do not refuse these children, most of whom are aware that they are sharing their Halloween Trick or Treat. The Kerr-Mills Law which provides such assistance for persons over 65 has been in operation in Massachusetts since October 1960. Many of our older citizens are receiving medical care assistance under this program.

Dr. Baty said that anyone over 65 who wants information on this program may write to the Massachusetts Medical Society, 22 The Fenway, Boston.

The educational program in Massachusetts is being conducted in conjunction with a national program inaugurated by the American Medical Association.

"The school of thought which Sen. Goldwater represents believes in maintaining a solvent government which will pay off bonds at maturity in dollars worth the same as when the securities were bought. It believes in equal rights accompanied by equal responsibilities. It opposes special privileges either for labor union bosses or for leaders of business. It fears the collapse of the private enterprise system and the substitution of an economy dominated by a central government. It sees the U.S. in danger of involvement in a major war if a policy of appeasement continues to prevail.

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER

By Bill Chiba

My son Tony and I arrived at the Elmwood Farm, West Fairlee, Vt., around 10 Friday night, Oct. 9th. We were warmly greeted by our host and hostess, "Moe" and Margaret Eaton, who, by the number of cars in the yard, were busy greeting the many bowhunters arriving for the opening day, Saturday. The coffee and goodies were certainly welcomed. We had stopped at the Windsor Diner on the way up and it was so jammed with people waiting to be served that after thirty minutes waiting for the waitress to take our orders we finally left in disgust and proceeded on to the farm. Before retiring to my trailer, I went upstairs to greet the following bowhunters: Frank Karakala, Bob Cooley, Dave Cesan, Noel Brown, Butch Parrot, Ruppert Kane, Hollie Kane—all from Feeding Hills—Dave Blackburn and his son Steve, and "Doc" Baldwin, Leon Glidden from Agawam, plus Bernie Guenette, from West Springfield, Joe Fujczak, Holyoke, and George Busiere, owner of George's Auto Shop, Westfield, Mass. Hunters arrived all through the night and by breakfast time Margaret served 28.

Tony and I took tree stands the first morning in an area known as "Sleepy Hollow." It is located a long ways back in the woods and on top of a mountain. Sunrise was around seven in the morning and we were all set in the trees waiting for the deer to come in and feed. To our surprise and disgust, just as the sun rose over the brightly colored oak trees, we were stunned to hear two bowhunters discussing in the area about fifty yards off to our right. It is hard to understand how some people hunt deer with the bow. They expect the deer to walk right up to them while they are talking over the events of the night before. Why bother getting up so early in the morning, if you are going to hold a convention just when the deer are about to arrive in the feed area! To make a long story short, my son and I stalked out of the area, and still-hunted the mountain side trying to kick out deer that might have bedded down early. No luck...so we proceeded back to the farm.

Noel Brown and I took a ride trying to find areas off the beaten path where we could stake out without being interrupted by roaming hunters. No matter where we went, there were hunters stalking the area. Just goes to prove what publicity will do for a place. West Fairlee has been getting a lot of news coverage the last few years and the hunters are flocking in looking for the bonanza. If you are planning to go there for the buck season, you had better make your reservations now. If you are planning to contact Margaret

Eaton for a place at her table, do it now, for already she has reservations for 20. Last year, 16 bucks were taken off the farm. It is a hot place to hunt, and a jovial place to be.

AFTERNOON SUCCESS

Saturday afternoon, Tony and I took up two stands at an orchard. At four o'clock two small deer bounced over the wall in front of me. A third deer, the larger of the three, was still browsing on the other side of the wall. One of the small deer kicked the other in the face, it jumped, ran away and stopped right in front of me about 10 yards away. Was it surprised when it looked me in the face—the imp stared for a few seconds—raised its tail as a flag of danger, and ran off...the other two deer disappearing instantly.

One hour later two deer walked right up to the apple tree I was watching and began to munch apples. The larger of the two just wouldn't cooperate at first. One minute she was facing me, the next she was completely turned around looking away from me. I wanted a side shot at her for I wanted to hit her in the heart if possible. This jockeying around went on for quite some time, and I was beginning to wonder if I was going to get a shot at her or not. I will not shoot at a deer unless I know my arrow is going to hit a vital spot in the chest cavity. The wind began to blow very strong, and she turned to face it. This put her in the position I was looking for and I placed an arrow in her heart. She ran for about sixty yards and dropped. I waited for thirty minutes before picking up the blood sign, and walked right up on her. I contacted my son Tony on the walkie-talkie and told him I needed help in dragging her out... He responded willingly. We reached the farm after dark, and were greeted with congratulations. To my surprise, one of the willing hands belonged to Andy Gallano, who just couldn't stay away from the beautiful foliage, and drove up again for the weekend to paint the country side. What a beautiful painting he created this week-end! It should take a prize in competition.

Dave Cesan, fireman from Feeding Hills bagged a nice button buck on Wednesday, and the day before, Doc Baldwin, dentist from Agawam (61 years old) downed a nice deer with a neck shot.

The farm still has a few beds open for the last week-end, so if you are planning to seek deer with the bow, call up and reserve one of them. Maurice Eaton, Elmwood Farm, West Fairlee, Vermont. LUCK!

SQUARE DANCE

PROMENADERS

By Al and Elaine Taupier

We are anticipating quite an array of characters come this Friday evening at Robinson Park School. The occasion is our Halloween Party held on the Promenaders regular dancing night Oct. 23. Dick Steele will be singing out the calls to a group of ghosts and goblins sure to be there for a good old square dance. We will have appropriate refreshments handled by Dom and Arlene DiClementi. The party plans and decorations are being provided by Doug and Adele Cochran and Howard and Doris Green. There will be costume prizes awarded. Costumes are optional, so please don't be embarrassed by coming in regular square dance clothes. All western style dancers are welcome.

We find we are to lose a couple of club members to the eastern part of the state. Lloyd and Kay Withers are leaving Agawam because of a job transfer. We are sorry to see them leave after such a short time, but hope they find a club to continue dancing with out Boston way.

There is still room for more couples on the bus for our Mystery Trip planned for Saturday, Nov. 7. This Friday night would be a good opportunity to sign up before it becomes too late and you have to be disappointed.

Hope to recognize you dancing this Friday night!

Over 65? Need Medical Care? Can't Afford It?

If you are over 65, need medical care and can't afford to pay for it... the program of Medical Assistance For the Aged (M.A.A.) will provide you with help needed. In Massachusetts this program known as the Kerr-Mills Law offers a health program for the elderly, with both the federal and state governments sharing the cost.

M.A.A. provides medical care for persons over 65 with health expenses beyond their ability to pay.

More than 22,000 Massachusetts residents over 65 are being helped through M.A.A.

You may qualify even though you have limited income and assets, as well as a home which you may own free of any lien.

The "Medicare" Tax plan would force every wage earner to pay higher taxes to the government. Your M.A.A. is a much fairer program. The cost comes out of taxes already being paid. And it provides help to those who need help.

Chalkliners Prepare "The Ghost Train"

The annual fall production is in the formative stages as the Chalkliners rehearse for an unusual mystery-comedy. "The Ghost Train," in three acts, written by Arnold Ridley, takes the audience on a hair-raising, seat-grIPPING ride. Though a story of the weirdest train ever seen or heard, there is great fun to the piece and assures an effective mixture of thrills, chills, and laughter.

This well-known play kept London on its toes before being brought over for a most successful New York run. It has been most recently done locally, 10 years ago, by Valley Players. Reviewers have called it, "modern mystery drama at its best."

Audiences will enjoy some familiar faces in the carefully chosen cast, plus several very new and recently new additions. Staging and effects will be especially interesting and an efficient produc-

Goldwater Interview On Channel 22 Friday

Tomorrow a national TV "Brunch" interview will be held with Senator Barry Goldwater, Republican candidate for the presidency. This will be a half hour program from 11:30 to 12:00 noon, Friday, October 23. The program will be carried locally on TV Channel 22.

Senator Goldwater will be interviewed by a cross section of American Women on questions that are important to them. One question of importance to be asked by a concerned mother will regard the controversial forced bussing of children away from their own home school area to fulfill a preplanned forced racial integration formula. Senator Goldwater has already referred to this forced integration bussing plan unfavorably, stating it was using our children as educational guinea-pigs.

In relation to this TV program Friday, supporters and other interested citizens are holding a WEST SPRINGFIELD — The West Springfield Co-operative Bank, the Greenfield Co-operative Bank and the Ware Co-operative Bank are participating in a $135,000 loan to the Debra-Irene Realty Trust which is constructing a second 23-unit apartment building in Chicopee Falls.

"brunch" party in their homes all over the state and country to watch and discuss this particular TV interview in groups. In Agawam, a "brunch" party will be held at the homes of Mrs. Philip Jensen and Mrs. R. Yamin. At these parties the start of a nationwide petition to enlist the support of "A Million Women for Goldwater" will be circulated. Senator Goldwater will be presented with an embellished book containing the signatures of these women supporters from all over the nation.

Springfield Co-operative Bank, said this is the second participation loan co-operative banks have made to the Debra-Irene organization this year. The first, of $150,000, was for the construction of the initial 23-unit apartment building at Debra and Irene Sts. in Chicopee Falls. These 23 units, the first electrically heated apartments in Chicopee or Chicopee Falls, are now all rented.

Mr. Harvey said the West Springfield Co-operative Bank will service the Debra-Irene loan. Principals in the Debra-Irene Realty Trust are Alcide Brodeur of Chicopee, Raymond W. Gamble of Springfield and Bradford R. Collins of West Springfield.

Mr. Collins said construction of a third 23-unit apartment at Debra and Irene Sts. will begin within 30 days, and plans are being made for a fourth building next year.

Mr. Harvey said the participation loan, made under the terms of new state legislation, gives co-operative banks "greater scope in our lending and enables us to participate much more actively and on a broader scale in community development."
